

Chile

Women, Business and the Law 2020 presents an index covering 190 economies and structured around the life cycle of a working woman. In total, 35 questions are scored across the eight indicators. Overall scores are then calculated by taking the average of each indicator, with 100 representing the highest possible score. Data refer to the laws and regulations that are applicable to the main business city (Santiago). Different rules may apply in other jurisdictions so local legislation should be reviewed. Based on this approach, Chile scores 77.5 out of 100. The overall score for Chile is lower than the regional average observed across High income (OECD) countries (94.7).

Chile - Scores for Women, Business and the Law 2020

Relative Strengths

When it comes to constraints on freedom of movement, and laws affecting women's work after having children, Chile gets a perfect score.

Areas for Improvement

However, when it comes to laws affecting women's decisions to work, laws affecting women's pay, constraints related to marriage, constraints on women's starting and running a business, gender differences in property and inheritance, and laws affecting the size of a women's pension, Chile could consider reforms to improve legal equality for women.

For example, one of the lowest scores for Chile is on the indicator related to constraints related to marriage (the WBL2020 Marriage Indicator). To improve on the Marriage Indicator, Chile may wish to consider allowing women to be head of household, and giving women the same rights to remarry as men.

Recent Reforms (2018-2019)

No reforms impacting the WBL2020 indicators have been observed during the past two years.
