

Lao PDR

Women, Business and the Law 2020 presents an index covering 190 economies and structured around the life cycle of a working woman. In total, 35 questions are scored across the eight indicators. Overall scores are then calculated by taking the average of each indicator, with 100 representing the highest possible score. Based on this approach, Lao PDR scores 88.1 out of 100. The overall score for Lao PDR is higher than the regional average observed across East Asia & Pacific (71.3).

Lao PDR - Scores for Women, Business and the Law 2020

Relative Strengths

When it comes to constraints on freedom of movement, laws affecting women's decisions to work, constraints related to marriage, constraints on women's starting and running a business, and gender differences in property and inheritance, Lao PDR gets a perfect score.

Areas for Improvement

However, when it comes to laws affecting women's pay, laws affecting women's work after having children, and laws affecting the size of a women's pension, Lao PDR could consider reforms to improve legal equality for women.

For example, one of the lowest scores for Lao PDR is on the indicator related to laws affecting the size of a women's pension (the WBL2020 Pension Indicator). To improve on the Pension Indicator, Lao PDR may wish to consider equalizing the ages at which men and women can retire with full pension benefits, and accounting for periods of absence from work due to childcare in pension benefits.

Recent Reforms (2018-2019)

No reforms impacting the WBL2020 indicators have been observed during the past two years.
