

Oman

Women, Business and the Law 2020 presents an index covering 190 economies and structured around the life cycle of a working woman. In total, 35 questions are scored across the eight indicators. Overall scores are then calculated by taking the average of each indicator, with 100 representing the highest possible score. Data refer to the laws and regulations that are applicable to the main business city (Muscat). Different rules may apply in other jurisdictions so local legislation should be reviewed. Based on this approach, Oman scores 38.8 out of 100. The overall score for Oman is lower than the regional average observed across the Middle East & North Africa (49.6).

Oman - Scores for Women, Business and the Law 2020

Relative Strengths

When it comes to laws affecting women’s decisions to work, Oman gets a perfect score.

Areas for Improvement

However, when it comes to constraints on freedom of movement, laws affecting women's pay, constraints related to marriage, laws affecting women's work after having children, constraints on women's starting and running a business, gender differences in property and inheritance, and laws affecting the size of a women's pension, Oman could consider reforms to improve legal equality for women.

For example, one of the lowest scores for Oman is on the indicator related to constraints on freedom of movement (the WBL2020 Mobility Indicator). To improve on the Mobility Indicator, Oman may wish to consider allowing women to choose where to live in the same way as men, allowing a married woman to leave the home without her husband's permission, allowing women to apply for a passport in the same way as men, and allowing women to travel abroad in the same way as men.
