

El Salvador

Women, Business and the Law 2021 presents an index covering 190 economies and structured around the life cycle of a working woman. In total, 35 questions are scored across the eight indicators. Overall scores are then calculated by taking the average of each indicator, with 100 representing the highest possible score. Data refer to the laws and regulations that are applicable to the main business city (San Salvador). Different rules may apply in other jurisdictions so local legislation should be reviewed. Based on this approach, El Salvador scores 88.8 out of 100. The overall score for El Salvador is higher than the regional average observed across Latin America & Caribbean (80.1). Within the Latin America & Caribbean region, the maximum score observed is 95 (Peru).

El Salvador - Scores for Women, Business and the Law 2021

Relative Strengths

When it comes to constraints on freedom of movement, laws affecting women's decisions to work, constraints on women's starting and running a business, and gender differences in property and inheritance, El Salvador gets a perfect score.

Areas for Improvement

However, when it comes to laws affecting women's pay, constraints related to marriage, laws affecting women's work after having children, and laws affecting the size of a woman's pension, El Salvador could consider reforms to improve legal equality for women.

For example, one of the lowest scores for El Salvador is on the indicator related to laws affecting women's pay (the WBL2021 Pay Indicator). To improve on the Pay Indicator, El Salvador may wish to consider mandating equal remuneration for work of equal value.

Recent Reforms

No reforms were observed during the past year.
