Women, Business and the Law 2022 (WBL2022) presents an index covering 190 economies and structured around the life cycle of a working woman. In total, 35 questions are scored across eight indicators. Overall scores are then calculated by taking the average of each indicator, with 100 representing the highest possible score. Data refer to the laws and regulations that are applicable to the main business city (Banjul). Different rules may apply in other jurisdictions so local legislation should be reviewed. Based on this approach, The Gambia scores 69.4 out of 100. The overall score for The Gambia is lower than the regional average observed across Sub-Saharan Africa (71.5). Within the Sub-Saharan Africa region, the maximum score observed is 89.4 (Mauritius).

The Gambia - Scores for Women, Business and the Law 2022

Relative Strengths

When it comes to constraints on freedom of movement, The Gambia gets a perfect score.

Areas for Improvement

However, when it comes to laws affecting women's decisions to work, laws affecting women's pay, constraints related to marriage, laws affecting women's work after having children, constraints on women starting and running a business, gender differences in property and inheritance, and laws affecting the size of a woman's pension, The Gambia could consider reforms to improve legal equality for women.

For example, one of the lowest scores for The Gambia is on the indicator measuring laws affecting women's decisions to work (the WBL2022 Workplace indicator). To improve on the Workplace indicator, The Gambia may wish to consider enacting legislation protecting women from sexual harassment in employment, and adopting criminal or civil penalties for sexual harassment in employment.

Recent Reforms

No reforms were observed during the past year (October 2nd, 2020 – October 1st, 2021).
